Library Spaces
The library has a variety of seating options and study spaces. Study rooms include white boards and OMM tables. See SEC Study Rooms in Meeting Room Manager. Larger rooms may be reserved for group study. Smaller rooms are available on a first come, first served basis.

Access to Digital Resources
https://lib.dmu.edu/e/access

All digital resources from the library are available 24/7 both on and off campus.

Off campus - Our URLs are customized for DMU access. Please use the links from the library home page.

On campus - the DMU network automatically authenticates you with our information providers, so you may be able to Google your way in to some resources. However, we still encourage you to use the links from the library as some resources or services are only available by the custom URL.
Physical Collections
https://lib.dmu.edu/findit

The library provides a robust collection of databases, ebooks and ejournals in the health sciences. To find journals, you can browse ejournals through the library’s ejournals database, or through embedded links within article citation databases and GoogleScholar. Look for the purple button or text that reads ‘Find it! @ DMU.’

The library acquires all required and recommended materials listed in your course syllabus. Many of our books are available digitally. To locate print or digital books search the library catalog:

Please note, library ebooks are meant to supplement your course requirements and may only available for a single user to read online at one time. The library catalog will let you know the number of simultaneous users permitted in the ‘Access’ note.

Course Reserves are located behind the Circulation Desk and check out for 2 hours. Reserve materials may be booked for a future loan period. Board Review materials behind the Circulation Desk check out for 1 week. All other print books and older print journals are accessible on the open shelves. Print books check out for 2 weeks.

Bones & Anatomical Models
Search the library catalog for bones or anatomical models as a title to browse this collection. The library’s 3D collection is located behind the Circulation desk.

Your Library Account
Renew checked out books or pay library fines online from the ‘My Library Account’ link in the catalog or go to: https://library.dmu.edu/patroninfo
